

RIISING TO THE CHALLENGE

Web Development Officer

Reading

£22,958 - £27,849 (Grade 4)

Could your web development skills contribute to Making Berkshire Safer?

You will be producing dynamic web pages that attract and inform users, working with all service departments. You will play a key role in the way that Royal Berkshire Fire and Rescue Service engages with its staff, partners and the community.

You will need first class web writing skills, good verbal and written communications skills and the ability to work closely with colleagues at all levels. Previous experience of web design and development is essential. You will preferably have experience in a public sector role and of working to tight deadlines.

For an application pack, including a job profile, please visit our website at www.rbfrs.co.uk or alternatively email recruitment@rbfrs.co.uk or call 0118 932 2150. (We do NOT accept CVs).

The closing date for all applications is 0900 hours on 28th July 2010.

Royal Berkshire Fire and Rescue Service is committed to equality of opportunity and is actively seeking a more diverse workforce. If you are disabled and meet the essential criteria of the role, you will be guaranteed an interview. This post is available for job-sharing.
